

THE CONSTITUTIONAL IMPLICATIONS OF FREE MOVEMENT

Oslo, 6-8 November 2014

Venue: Kjerka, Domus Media Vest, Karl Johans gate 47, Oslo

PROGRAMME

THURSDAY 6 NOVEMBER

16.45-17.00	Coffee and tea
17.00-19.00	SESSION 1 In cooperation with the Norwegian Association on IP-Law:  Free movement, competition and IP rights: the search for common principles Professor Stefan Enchelmaier, University of Oxford  Prepared comment Professor Ole-Andreas Rognstad, University of Oslo

FRIDAY 7 NOVEMBER

09.15-09.30	Coffee and tea
09.30-10.30	SESSION 2 – The Framework Chair: Professor Christophe Hillion, Leiden University  Introduction Professor Mads Andenæs, University of Oslo  From a common market to an economic union Professor Jukka Snell, University of Turku
10.30-10.45	Coffee and tea break

10.45–12.30	SESSION 3 – Search for common principles Chair: Dr. Anja Wiesbrock, University of Oslo Developments after Mickelsson and Roos Attorney Dr. Pål Wennerås, Attorney General's Office The free movement of capital and the unity of free movement Professor Emiliós Avgouleas, University of Edinburgh Free Movement of Capital: Equal Treatment and Market Access Dr. Jonathan Mukwiri, Durham University
12.30–13.30	Lunch
13.30–15.30	SESSION 4 – Justifications and proportionality Chair: Professor Jukka Snell, University of Turku Justifications to the internal market freedoms: towards a single normative framework? Professor Vassilis Hatzopoulos, Democritus University Thrace, Greece; Visiting Professor at the College of Europe, Bruges Proportionality in free movement and beyond Professor Takis Tridimas, Kings College London Restrictions, proportionality and Court discretion Dr. Tarjei Bekkedal, Associate Professor, University of Oslo
15.30-16.00	Coffee and tea break
16.00-17.00	SESSION 5 – Environmental protection, a Constitutional value Chair: Professor Mads Andenæs, University of Oslo Coherence or conflict? Free movement as constitutional principles of EU law and the overarching objectives of the European constitution Professor Beate Sjøfjell, University of Oslo Abolishing the distinction between express derogations and mandatory requirements? The case of environmental protection Dr. Anja Wiesbrock, University of Oslo
19.00	Dinner

SATURDAY 8 NOVEMBER

09.15-09.30	Coffee and tea
09.30-13.00	SESSION 6 – Young scholars’ roundtable Chair: Dr. Tarjei Bekkedal, Associate Professor, University of Oslo The interplay between free movement of goods/services and competition law: object/effect restrictions of competition on free trade Dr. Anca Chirita, Lecturer in Competition Law, Durham Law School The US Constitution commerce clause and the balance of powers between the federal government and the states. A comparison with EU law Eszter Harsanyi-Belteki, PhD Candidate, Research and Teaching Assistant, Durham Law School The interplay between internal and external competence in the field of the common market and of the common commercial policy Dr. Luca Pantaleo, Senior Researcher, University of Luxembourg Substantive Rights and Procedural Obstacles: Discovering EU Public Policy through ECJ-driven Constitutionalism Allison Östlund, PhD Student, University of Luxembourg The investment clause of the TTIP Giovanni Gruni, Anna Perego, University of Oxford
13.00–14.00	Lunch

Seminar organised by:
Centre for European Law, Department of Private Law
and the Norwegian Association for European Law

